66 Westgate St, circa 1450

Originally built as a Merchant's house circa 1450, 66 Westgate St was remodelled into two dwellings, each with a shop and workshop on the ground floor. The second floor was added circa 1600 followed by the cross-gabled bays circa 1700. Restoration work and Architectural investigations have shown timber frames with wattle and daub walls, gabled tiled roofs with decorative pierced tile ridges and 18th century freehand floral wall paintings. This Grade II* Listed Building is one of only a few surviving original timber-framed houses in Gloucester.
